Theme

As I sit alone with my "Book of Memories," the events of this year unfold in pleasant restropection. I turn each page solemnly and questionly. Their contents in pictures and words are provocative.

"This, I remember," I quietly say as registration in September, 1952, vividly forms a mental picture. To myself I made a vow that day embossed in Henry Van Dyke's words:

Four things a man must learn to do
If he would make his record
true;
To think without confusion
clearly;
To love his fellow man sincerely;
To act from honest motives
purely;
To trust in God and Heaven securely.

Now I am reticent about checking my scholastic status. Little did I realize the magnitude of those "trivial" things as English, history, mathematics and science. I realize that that record could have been improved.

Quickly I turn the pages before my mood becomes an epitome of "It might have been."

Yes, these gay, happy activities I remember: Homecoming, the Sophomore Stomp, Carnival dance, Deer Hunter's ball, Pepster formal, Junior Prom and Senior Hop. They meant dates, new dresses and ties, laughter and music.

My dramatic accomplishments evoke tears of pride for me and fellow actors and actresses in our high school who starred in "Life With Father, "Brigadoon," Stage Door" and Class Night.

What would life be without music? Hurriedly I find that section lest I forget its impact on the lives of all people. The band, chorus, Inter-school Concerts, and Spring Music Festival are contributory factors toward music appreciation. Many times I told my happiness in song.

Victory does not always come in winning. These words are mine as I recall our championship football team. How indellibly these games are a part of my school life! I played and I watched. These "Mr. Touchdowns" I will always remember.

Basketball -- I now picture the gymnasium with its enthusiastic crowd, the cheerleaders, the band, the teams coming on to the floor. Yes, I was proud of the record we made.

The clubs in our high school touch every phase of the curriculum, thus giving an opportunity for each student to find a niche regardless of his interests. I honor my membership in Spanish, Bi-Phy-Chem, "E", Pepsters, FTA, FHA, Thespians and La Cita Mard clubs.

What a variety of entertainment came our way in class, National and special assemblies! We were indeed fortunate to hear the best in speaking and music. As I reminisce now I laugh in solitude over the cartoonist's version of our high school "celebrities" 20 years hence; the fashion review by the male members of the Junior Class.

I close this "Golden Book" and gaze out the window. It is May, 1953! The year is over. I feel like a caged bird who has just been set free. The ecstasy is soon dulled as I leave the building and realize that I've said goodby forever to many teachers, friends and favorite haunts.

"Many receive advice, but few profit by it." Graduation has brought wisdom, and as I pass out into a new life, I'll say, "This year of 1952-53 I'll always remember."

Dedication

"Knowledge comes, but wisdom lingers."

As we look back in retrospection we see a class eager to learn. Their experiences are lamps which guide them into and away from the follies of sorrow. Few have been wise enough to learn from the experiences of others; yet their contribution to high school life has set a pattern to build upon. The future is theirs, and the opportunities are many. Upon graduation they say:

"All things I thought I knew;
but now confess
The more I know I know, I know the less."

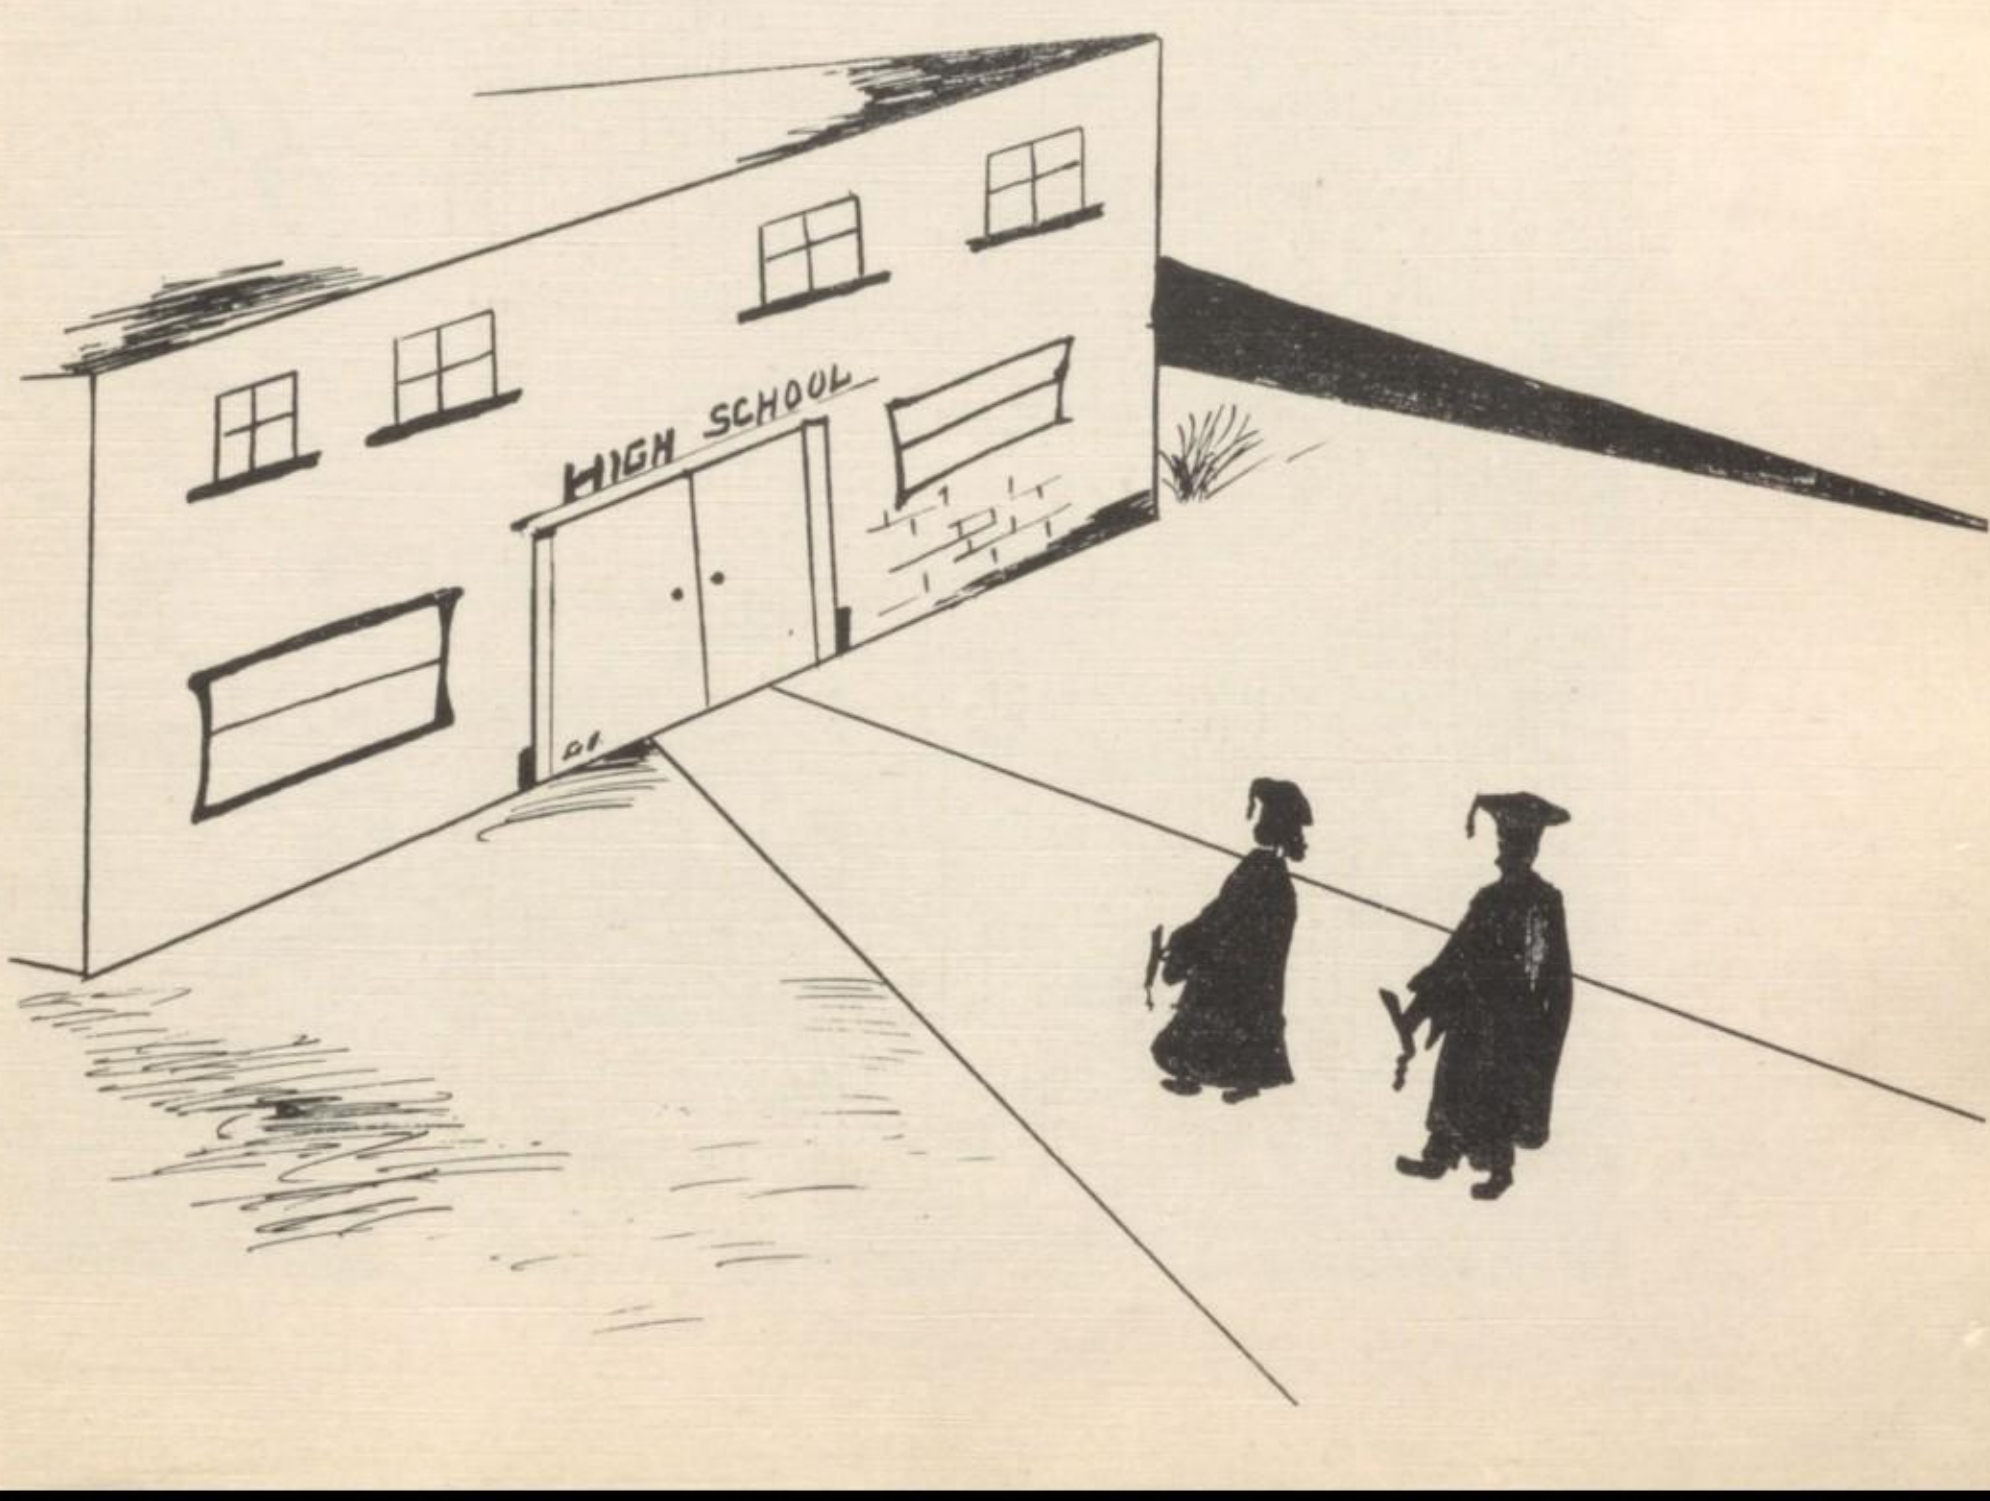
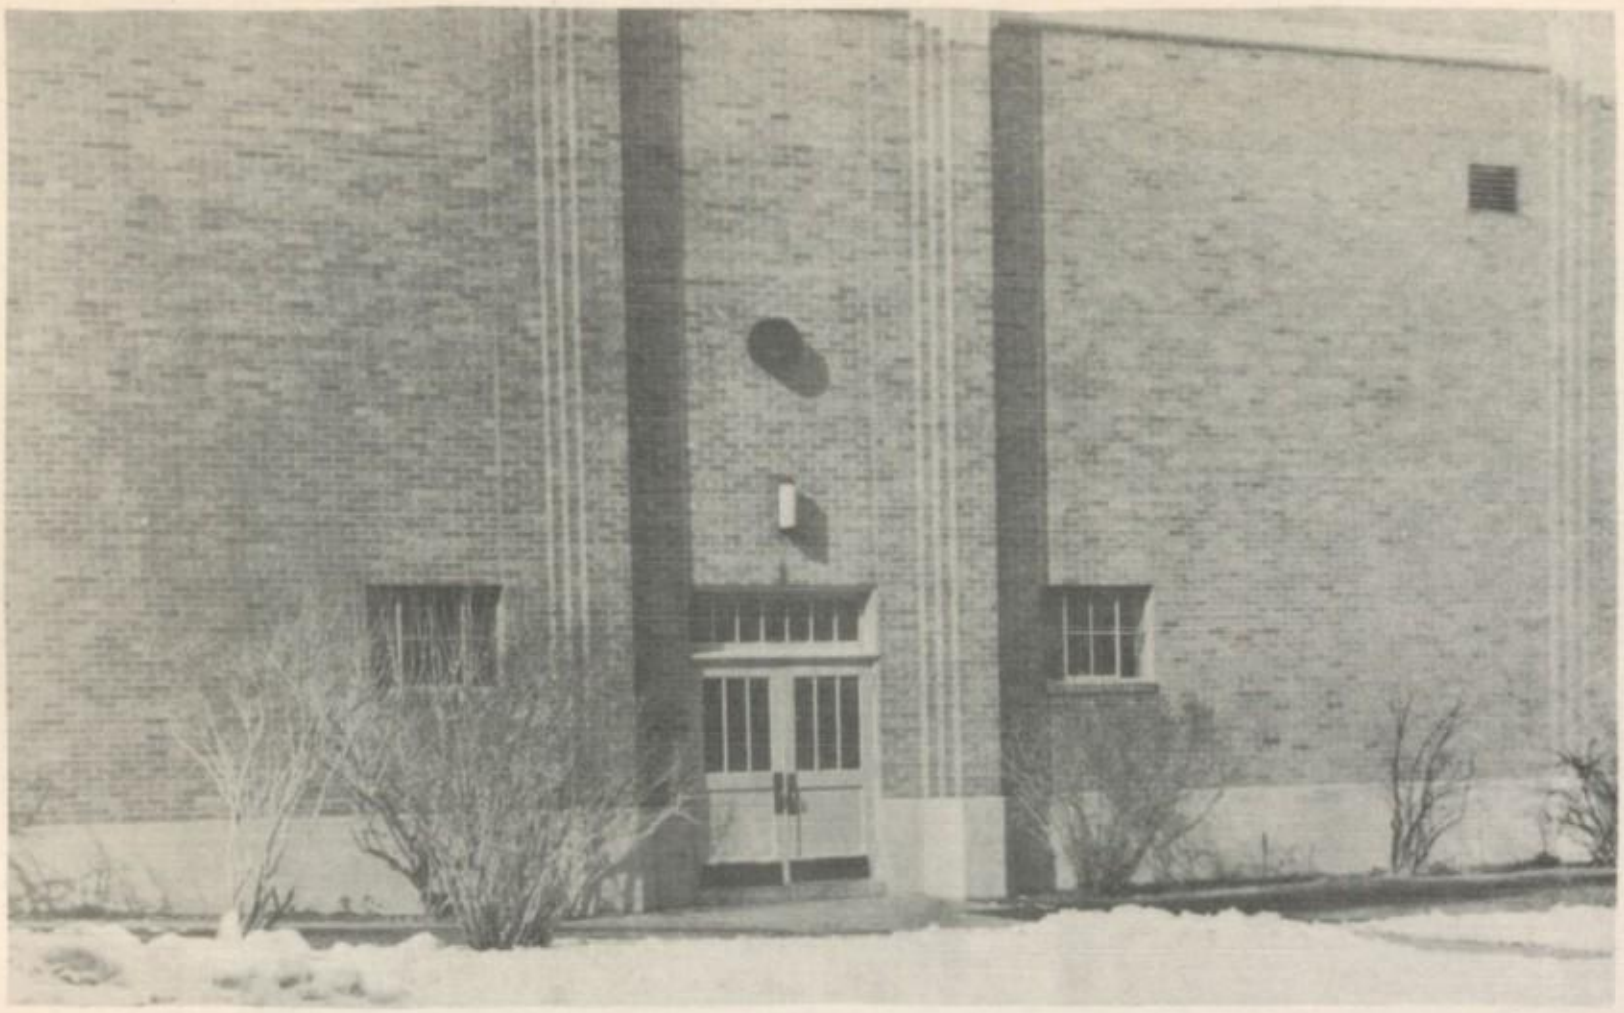
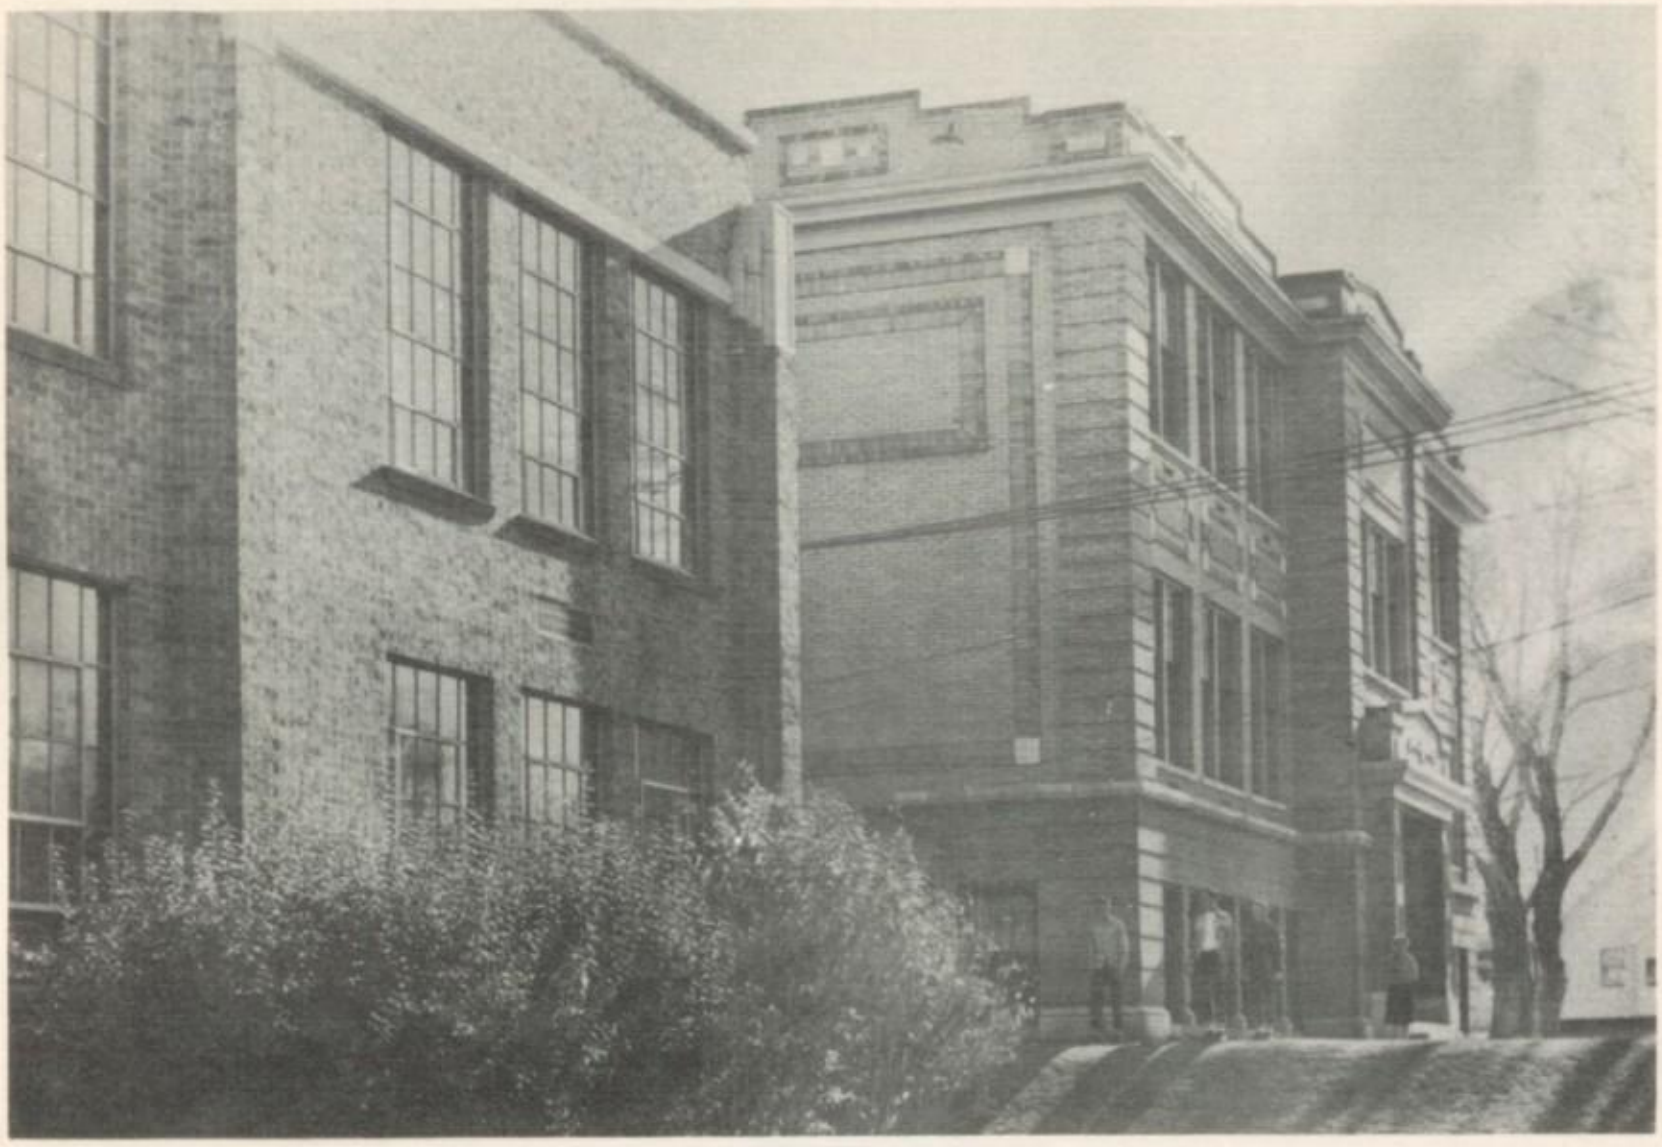
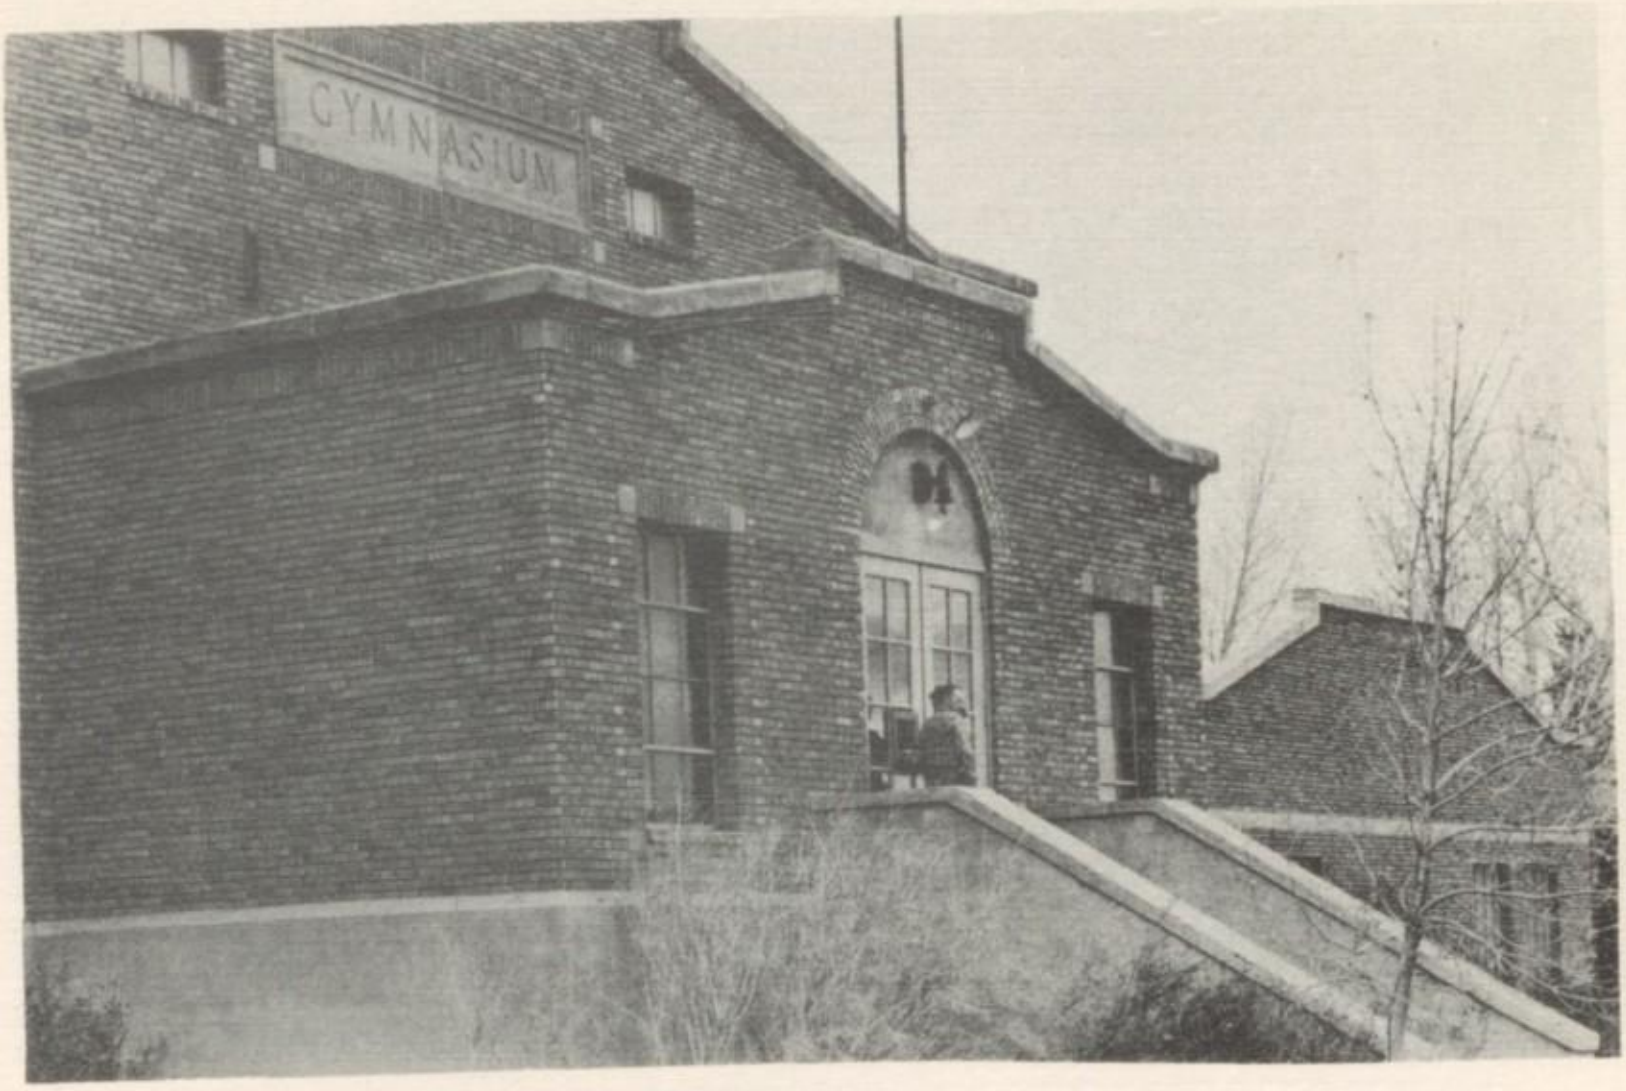
To this group of sixty Seniors of 1953, we dedicate this book. May they grasp the significance of this accomplishment and yet remember that the school is not the end but only the beginning of an education.

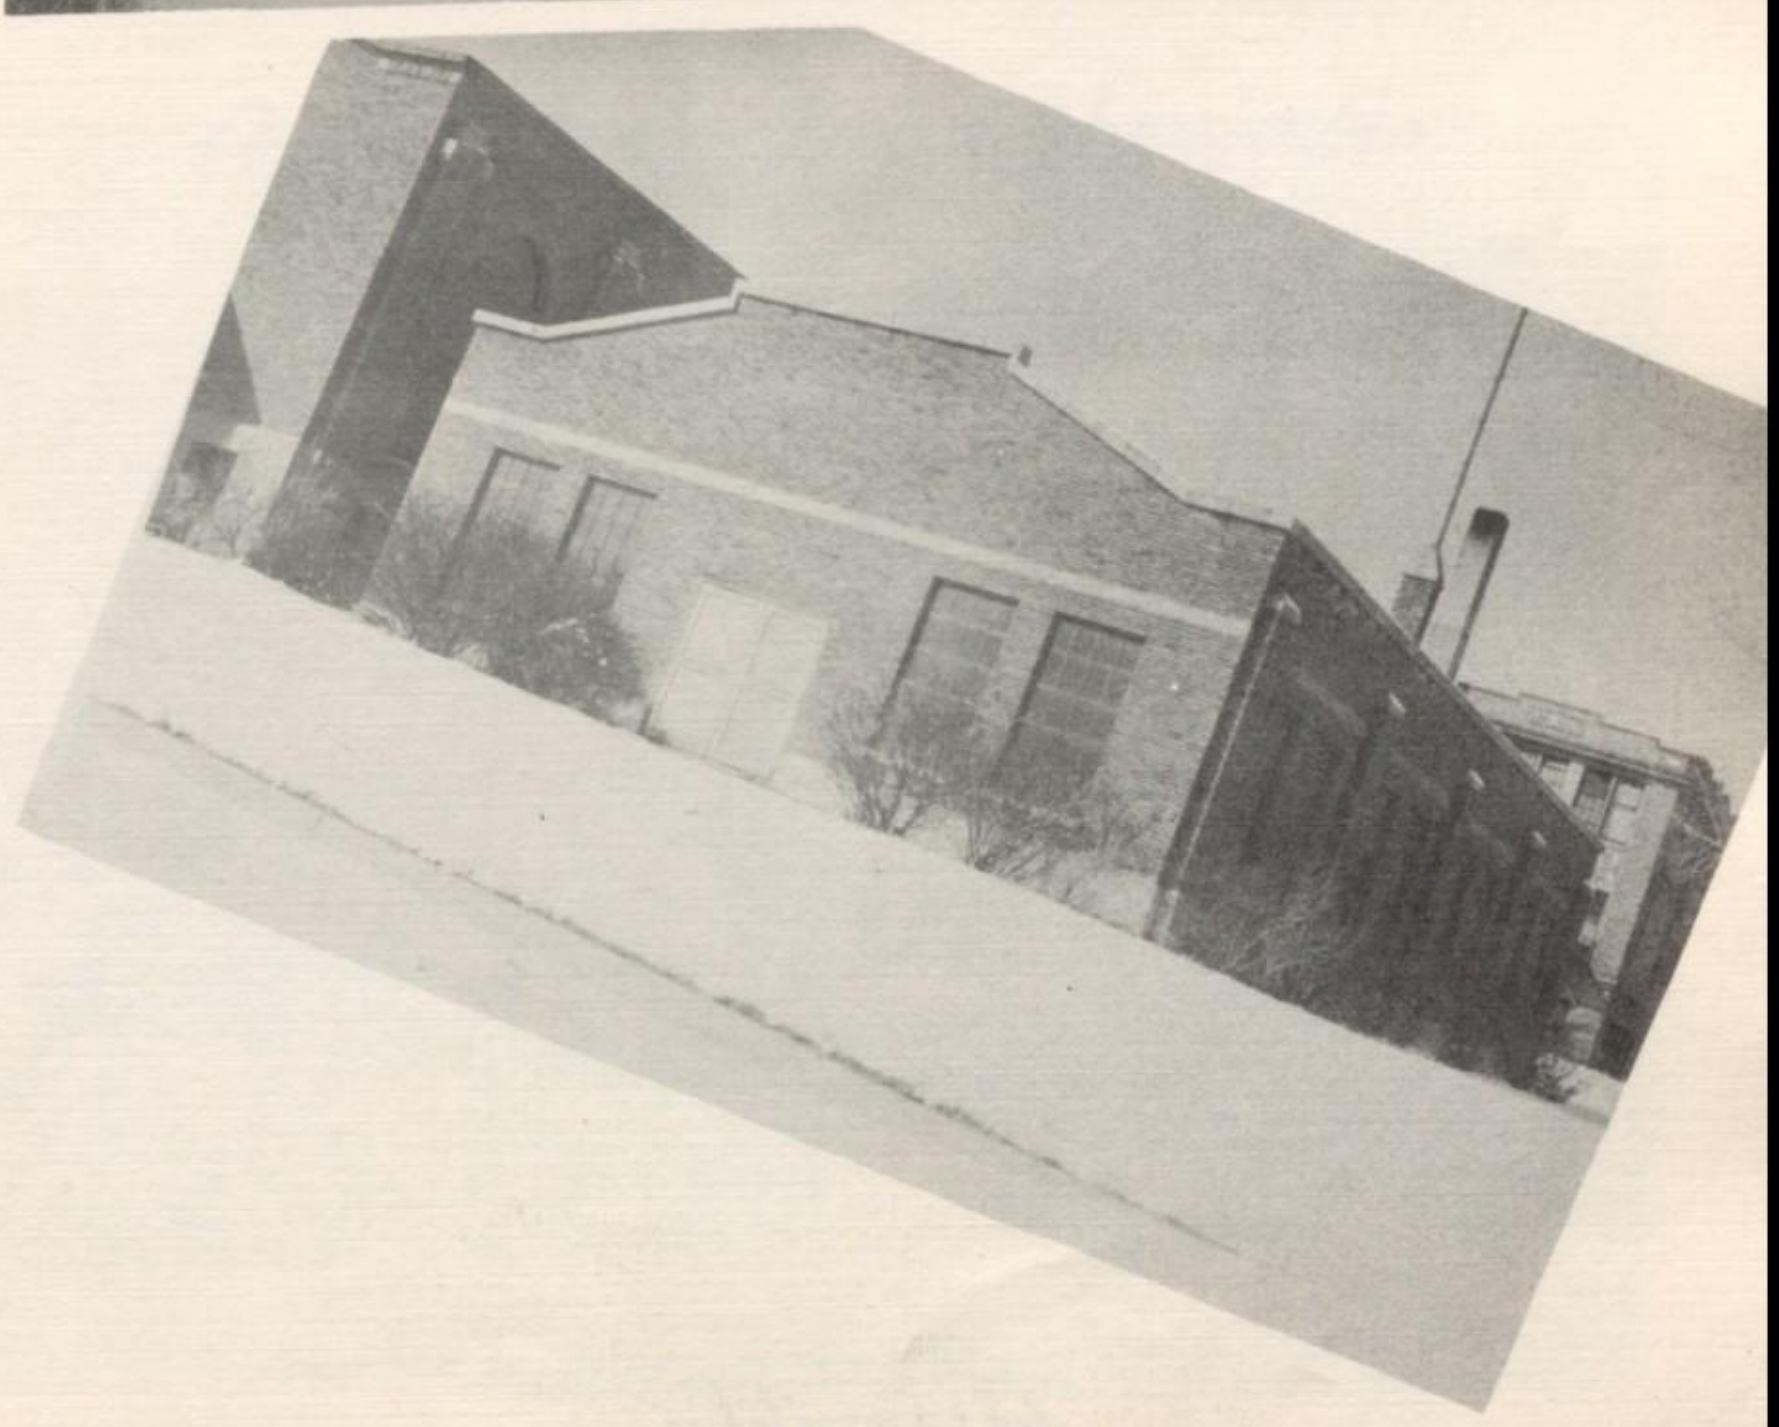


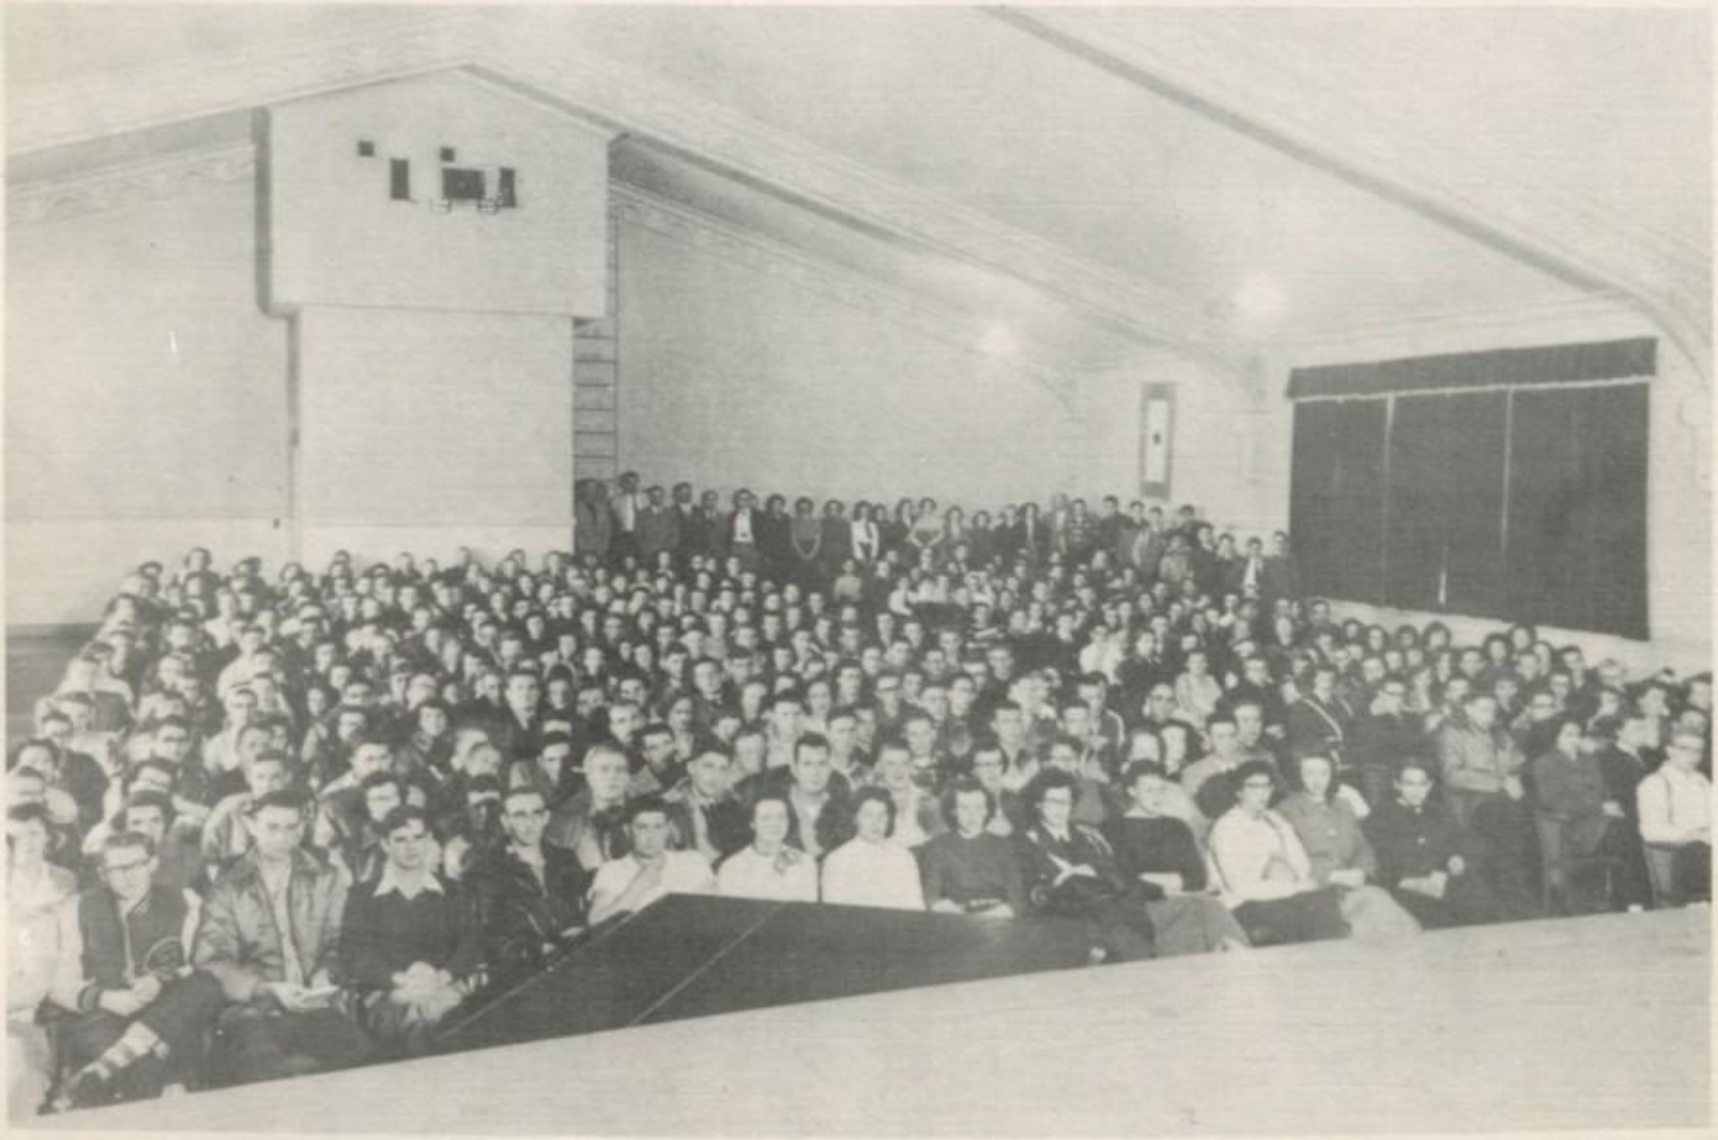






GYMNASIUM





Assembly

As we look down the halls

That you may recall all the happy events at E H S, we, the Journalism Class, with the help of our supervisor, Mrs. Thompson, have edited this 1952-53 year book.

Our theme, "This, I Remember," portrays and aids you in recalling your exciting days in high school. Our golden cover, sketched by Gary Albertson, represents a bright glow of memories worth remembering in future years. With unusual art designs of black and white half-tones, our book has become very unique and original.

Individual and group pictures were taken by Mr. Jack Anderson of Preston, Idaho. Using the new multilith camera purchased last summer, Rudger Davis prepared the negatives. All the final typing was done by Mrs. Emmeline Sims on the vari-type machine. The art work was designed by Mr. Welsh and his art students. A composite of this material was arranged by the students into pages. From them the plates were made and the final copy printed by Rudger Davis on the multilith machine.

The books were bound and the cover made by the Hiller Book-binding Company of Salt Lake City, Utah.

In future years, we, the Journalism Class, hope that this book will help each individual recall those very important events of his school days. May "This, I Remember" become an outstanding memory for you.

This I Remember:

Today the world faces many difficult problems. There are times when the future does not look bright. Civilization is undergoing one of the most severe tests it has ever faced. We earnestly believe that tomorrow will be a day of deeper understanding and a period of world advancement and prosperity.

On the national scene, this year marked the inaugural of President Dwight D. Eisenhower. The death of Josef Stalin and the promotion of Georgi M. Malenkov to the Premiership were the big events in the communist world.

Locally, this year will be remembered for the joining of school districts one, two and three into Consolidated School District Number One, Uinta County, Wyoming. Another educational advancement was made when our elementary building program entered the blue-print stage and problems for immediate construction were considered.

This you should remember:

There are many opportunities in Evanston High School for students to secure a well balanced high school education. Some students take advantage of these opportunities while others pass them by. Whether or not you are prepared for life's work depends largely upon your attitude while attending high school and the effort that you put forth.

The Junior High Council is an important organization for seventh, eighth, and ninth grades.

Its functions are similar to the council in Senior High, therefore enabling them to be trained to manage the problems they will face in their future high school years.

Meetings are held each Monday under the supervision of Mr. Rex, the sponsor, to discuss the current problems. The homeroom presidents attend these meetings and carry the information back to the homerooms to be discussed.

We, the Seniors, will treasure our "Golden Book of Memories," for in it many of the events of the past year have been preserved.

What about our education before we reached the last rung of the ladder? We recall that in September, 1941, 71 of us, eager to go to school, found our way to the East, Clark, Brown, Almy and Hilliard schools.

In 1947, we greeted each other in the Junior High. Life here was very different from our preceding years. Dances, assemblies, basketball games and plays became part of our social life.

The winning of the Citizenship Cup in the 8th and 9th grades made us an outstanding class. The first year the Junior High chose twirlers was 1949-50. Six girls from our class were elected. Four of them, Louise Price, Lorraine Price, Nancy Anderson and Burva Cluff, retained these positions until graduation.

The culmination of our Junior High activities was the promotion exercises, May 25, 1950. Valedictory and salutatory addresses were given by Mariel Sims and Ken Houtz. Glenna Putnam and Wally Pirainen were chosen as all-around girl and boy.

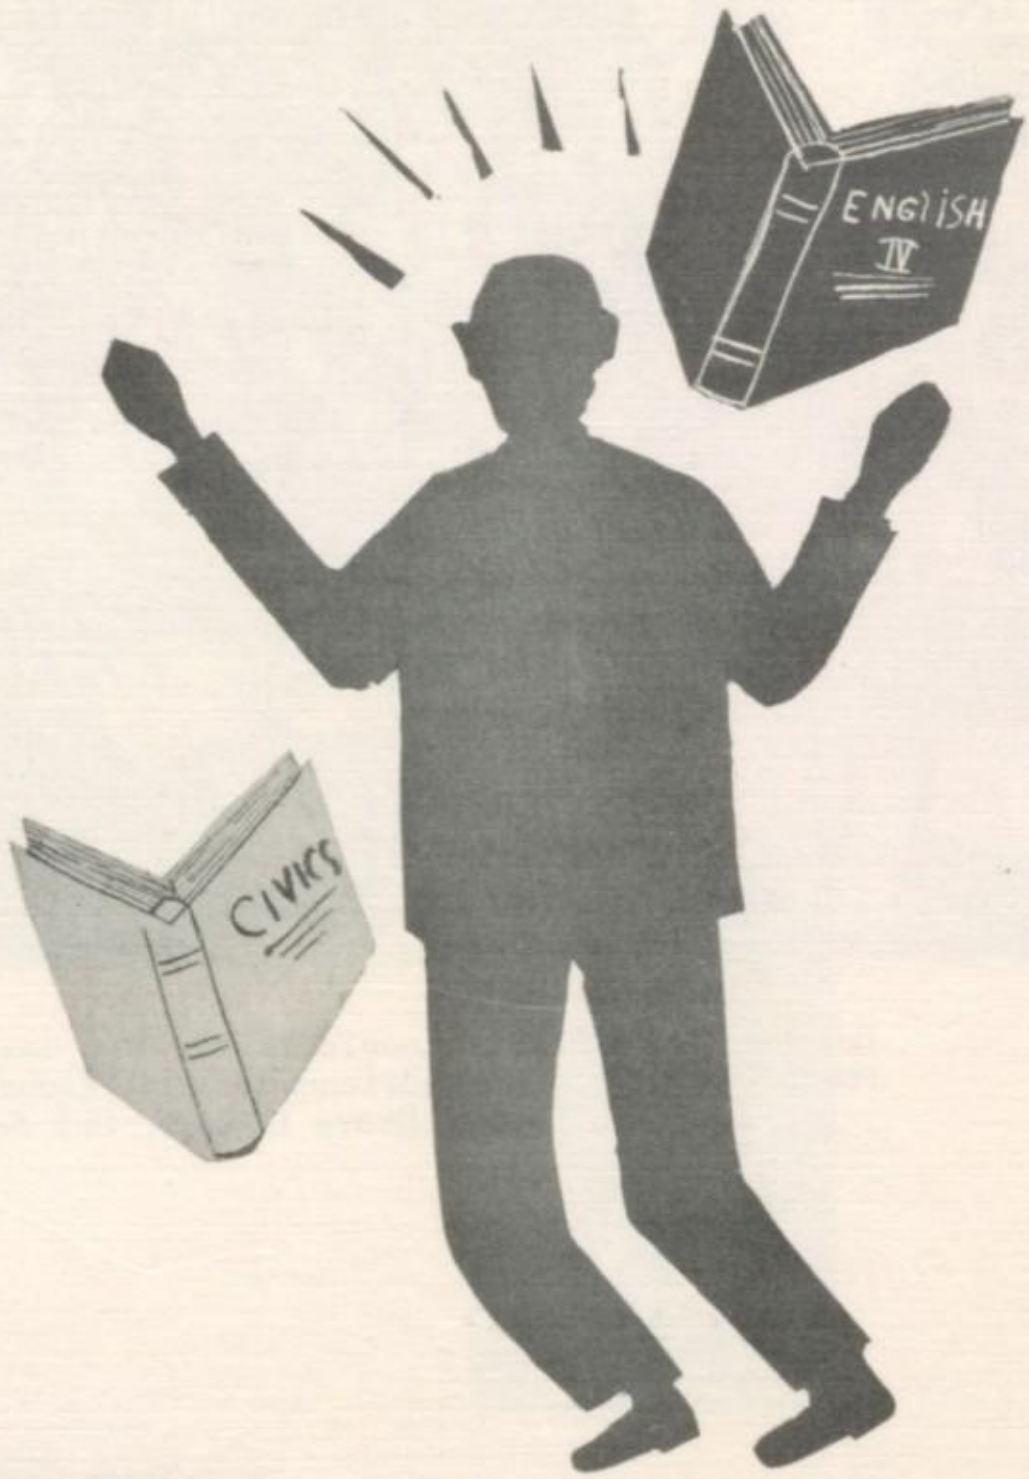
Attired in gunny sacks and "perfumed" with garlic, we became members of the Senior High. A water fight on the football field completed our initiation.

"Shine on Harvest Moon" was the theme of our Sophomore Stomp on November 10, 1950.

Our junior year brought exciting and memorable events such as our class assembly and Junior Prom. "Toyland" was our Christmas class assembly presented December 20, 1951. Then on April 19, in a realistic King Neptune's Garden, we danced to the music of "How Deep is the Ocean?" at our Junior Prom. Ronald Cheese and Glenna Black held the honors of king and queen at this gala occasion.

Our senior year brought the realization of all things that we had anticipated in our twelve years of waiting.

September 26--Homecoming! The parade was a gala spectacle with our prize float, built under the supervision of Mrs. Thompson and Mr. Welsh, glittering in the bright sun. Jimmy Redfield and Joette Crook reigned as king and queen.



April 24 our mothers honored us at a banquet, and May 2 at the Senior Hop.

Events never to be forgotten followed in rapid succession; Sluff Day, May 15; Baccalaureate, May 17; Class Night, May 20; and Graduation, May 22.

What more can we say, but "Goodbye!"

We, the class of "54", have gathered together some facts from our first eleven years of education for our "Golden Book of Memories."

We began our education in the fall of 1942 at East, Clark, Brown, and Hilliard grade schools with Miss Starkey, Miss Smith, Miss Gerrard, and Mrs. Martin as our first grade teachers.

After we completed our grade school education, our social life began upon our entrance to Evanston Junior High School in September of 1947.

Our contribution to the Junior High Invitational Tournament for the first time since 1946 was Bill Narramore, Jerry Palmer, Mark Frodsham, Harold Thomason, and James Parsons.

The most outstanding event of our freshman year was our promotion exercises into the Senior High School on May 23, 1951, at which Alan Dean was valedictorian; Jean Gerrard, salutatorian; Kay Martin, best all-around girl; and Gary Green as best all-around boy.

In the fall of 1951 we were initiated into the Senior High. We donned "nursery rhyme" costumes prescribed by the Juniors and Seniors. The long awaited day was ended with the traditional water fight at the football field.

In our sophomore year we remember our assembly, a one act play, "The Contest Play", and a pantomime of "Cinderella" which was given by an all boy cast.

At sun-up on Homecoming morning we arose and trudged up the "E" hill to give the "E" its annual bath.

We recall "Somewhere Over the Rainbow" as our Sophomore Stomp theme. This dance was the most outstanding event of this year.

February 16 proved to be an exciting day for our class. It was the day our long awaited class rings arrived.

Our Junior year came to a glorious end with the Junior Prom, April 25, which gave a gay climax to a perfect year.

As we pass our eleventh year of education, we look forward to completing our "Golden Book of Memories."

We, as Sophomores, remember these eventful days and activities since we entered Junior High in the fall of 1949:

In the seventh and eighth grades we sponsored several dances. As Freshmen we took first place in the floats in the Homecoming parade. Our float depicted a cemetery in which the Devils buried the Dragons.

November 20, 1951, we presented an outstanding assembly in which we re-enacted a night club scene with such celebrities as Doris Day, alias Kathryn Harris; Alice Fay, alias Althea Taylor; and Rosemary Clooney, alias Janet Barber. Also this year on a cold January day, Mr. Bloom chaperoned us on a hayride.

On May 22, 1953, sixty-three students took part in the promotion exercises. Lois Allard was valedictorian, and Kathryn Harris, salutatorian, Gayle South and Earl Longhurst were chosen as best all-around girl and boy.

Cheerleaders from our class included Myrna Foss, Gayle South and Janice Bills.

For our initiation we dressed in costumes depicting such story book characters as Donald Duck, Cinderella and Alladin and his lamp. In the assembly we impersonated our characters. We were proud and happy to come out with a victory in the annual water fight.

Bright and early on Homecoming we, the class of "55," trudged up the hill to whitewash the "E" and clean up the debris left by the Seniors. Our float placed second in the parade.

November 7, 1952, saw the gym gaily decorated as "September Song" for the Sophomore Stomp. The happy crowd danced from 8-11 p.m.

Now we are looking forward to our class rings and the Junior Prom.

We, the Freshmen of "56," recall all the joy of Junior High. Now we are looking forward to membership in the Senior High.

We entered the elementary grades in East, Brown and Clark schools in the fall of 1944. Here we were tutored by Mrs. Wardle, Miss Gerrard and Miss Smith. These years passed quickly and before we knew it we were entering Junior High.

In the seventh and eighth grades we sponsored several dances. The big event as eighth graders was the presentation of our class assembly in which we had a "Television Broadcast." For example: we had such popular T.V. stars as Jack Benny, Amos and Andy, Little Red Riding Hood, Corless Archer and Robert Q. Lewis' Waxworks.

This year as Freshmen we took first place in the Junior High for the Homecoming float. Welcoming the Braves, it depicted Star Valley with a pretty Indian Maiden on each side of the valley.

Our assembly this year rated top honors. The setting was a library in the year 2025 A.D. Here Janice Elmer, a student of the ninth grade class of 1953, was looking up information concerning her classmates.

Looking into the past she found the students exhibiting their talents. Dorothy Titmus was a popular vocalist; Bruce Hudson and Royce Bills were outstanding comedians; a favorite pianist was Florence Hall. Many others also came to her mind.

All five cheerleaders were chosen from our class; namely, Kay Barnes, Sally Putnam, Adrienne McPhie, Janice Elmer and Sharon Palmer.

Jon Cook, Jon Lunsford, Royce Bills, Bruce Hudson, David Taggart and Robert Davis honored us by being on the basketball team.

Nancy Frederick, Patricia Stahley and Sandra Martin were the twirlers from our class.

The highlight of our Freshman year was May 21, 1953, when 70 classmates received diplomas at the Promotion Exercises.

We, the Freshmen, recall our Junior High

Recalling our first year in a new world, the Junior High, we, the seventh graders, remember the wonderful and happy times we enjoyed during this initial year. As this was our first year, our activities were limited.

However, we entered a float in the Homecoming parade, receiving third place as a reward for our hard work.

One of our classmates, Sharon Fourth, was chosen as an attendant to the Carnival Dance Queen.

Our class sponsored a dance on February 20, which marked our social beginning in high school.

As eighth graders, we entered into the second year of Junior High with much excitement. This year was one of anticipation and realization of fun and happiness.

Our classmate Karen Pantelone represented our class in the Carnival Dance by being chosen as an attendant to the Queen, Shirley Barnes.

Tommy McDermet, Kenneth Harris and Lee Longhurst represented our class in athletics by being on the basketball team and participating in the Tourney.

Our class dance on November 14, 1953, will be remembered always as the outstanding social event during the year.

Entering a float in the Homecoming parade, we were honored with second place. Our float theme was "Bury the Braves."

We will always remember our eighth grade year and add these special events to our "Golden Book of Memories."

Drivers' Training

The average high school student wants to learn to drive a car. Without a systematic driver training course, he may know something about an automobile and a little about traffic rules and traffic hazards. He may have had someone teach him the simple mechanical steps involved in starting, stopping, and maneuvering an automobile. He may do some of these acts in a creditable manner, but his behavior in complex and critical traffic situations is often another matter. In fact, the traffic records of young drivers prove that systematic training for driving must now be a serious concern of the public schools.

With these needs in mind a class in Drivers' Education has been taught in the high school as an elective for three years, under the instruction of Mr. Maurer.

The training car has been provided by the Horne Chevrolet Company, a local business.

The Paralyzer, edited and published by Mrs. Thompson's Journalism Class, is distributed free of charge once a month to the entire Senior High studentbody and faculty.

Each member of the staff is assigned an article, and a deadline is set. All articles are handed to Mrs. Thompson to be proof read. They are typed and placed on a dummy copy. Stencils are then typed and mimeographed.

This year 35 schools from Wyoming, Utah, and Idaho were on our exchange list.

The editor, co-editor, and sponsor attended the Journalism Conference in Laramie, October 17-18. The entire staff also attended a conference at the Brigham Young University in Provo, Utah, November 8, where much useful information was obtained which was applicable in our newspaper work.

We consider the Christmas issue our outstanding publication of the year. Prize stories and poems are the special features, with individual pictures of the winners. It is printed by our local printer and financed through advertisements from local business establishments.

Editor's Note:

As editor of the Paralyzer, I want to take this opportunity to thank Mrs. Thompson, sponsor; Alan, co-editor; and each individual on the staff for making the Paralyzer a successful publication this year.

The Spotlight Staff is a group of Junior High students who publish the school newspaper. They are ninth graders, with the exception of a seventh and an eighth grade reporter, who are chosen for their ability to write. There are an editor, assistant editor, class and club reporters, society and sports editors, feature, fashions and gossip writers, cartoonists, and two printers. Editions are published on an average of every three weeks with emphasis on holiday issues. Before beginning the publication in the fall, a unit on newspaper writing is studied in ninth grade English classes.

"Life With Father"

"Life With Father"

"Life With Father"

Howard Lindsay's amusing comedy, "Life With Father," under the direction of Mr. John F. Welsh, played to capacity audiences in the high school auditorium on December 4, 5, and 8, 1952. The play was the first offering of the 1952-53 season.

Phil Wallwork deserves to be given much of the credit for the success of the production. As father, Phil dominated the stage as the hot tempered, ranting business man of 1880.

One of the smoothest portrayals of the evening was turned in by veteran player Dorothy Kochiras, in the role of Vinnie.

Another outstanding jobs of acting was displayed by Gary Green in the role of Clarence, Junior. Gary seems to have a natural flair for comedy and timing, always able to draw gales of laughter from the audiences.

Virgie Bentley and Cecilia O'Connor, as Annie and Margaret, two of the many maids employed by the Day family, displayed promise of becoming two active high school comediennes.

. As the Reverend Dr. Lloyd, Alan Dean brought forth smiles and laughter, as did Janet Barber and Bonnie Florer in the roles of Cousin Cora and Mary Skinner.

Particular mention should be made of the Day children, John played by Gary Horne; Harlan, Dickie Staniforth; and Whitney, played by Phil Riddle.

Irving Decker and Milton Homer were enjoyable as the two doctors, as were Nancy Gunn, Lois Allard, and Kathryn Riley as maids.

"Brigadoon"

"Brigadoon", a Broadway musical play, received the highest acclaim of the year's productions when it was presented to the public February 12, 13 and 14 under the direction of Mr. Welsh, dramatics, Mr. Stokes, music supervisor, and Miss Michelstetter, accompanist.

The performance, considered a difficult "adventure" for a high school group, was remarkably well done, exhibiting hours of study and practice by the entire cast including the ensemble, chorus, dancers, stage and lighting crews.

Starring in the leading singing roles were Bruce Thompson as Tommy Albright, and Althea Taylor as Fiona MacClaren. They displayed excellent acting and singing talent as they sang duets and solos in a realistic, romantic manner.

Gayle South as Meg, a Scottish lass, gave character and humor to the play as she told the story in song of her "Mother's Wedding Day."

Bill Gerrard, playing the part of Charlie Dalrymple, sang "Come To Me, Bend To Me."

The audience was kept amused by the clever lines and acting of John Bullis, who portrayed the American, Jeff Douglas.

Other members of the cast included John Weis, Sidney Harris, Ralph Martin, Dona Rice, Dick Montgomery, RaNae Lindsay, Joel Carpenter, Merle Smith, Phil Wallwork, Jayne Spencer and Bill Narramore.

The story centers around the adventures of two Americans, Tommy and Jeff, who become lost in the highlands of Scotland while hunting. Here they stumble on to the mythical village of Brigadoon, which appears only once in every one-hundred years. Their experiences there are intriguing, especially when Tommy falls in love with Fiona, a Scottish maid. He and Jeff sail for New York, but their stay is only temporarily. Tommy's love for Fiona is so great that their return to Scotland causes the reappearance of Brigadoon.

This was the first musical production in fifteen years for Evanston High School. It was an outstanding activity in the year's events which will never be forgotten by the hundreds who saw it.

"Stage Door"

Another record crowd saw "Stage Door" Friday evening, March 27, the last production of the season by the Evanston High School players under the direction of Mr. Welsh.

With a cast of 32, the play gave an excellent opportunity for dramatic participation of many; consequently, there were few leading roles.

Special commendation should be given to Veronica Philbrick in her superb portrayal of the Russian actress, Olga Brandt.

Carol Eastman gave humor and life to the scenes in her role of Judith Canfield, as did Rose Marie Faulkner as Mattie, the Negro maid.

Jayne Spencer, a sophomore, displayed unusual dramatic talent in the part of Terry Randall. She held the center of the stage in most scenes.

True sophistication was exhibited by Dorothy Kochiras as Linda Shaw, and Dona Rice as Jean Maitland.

Cliff Stuart, a newcomer to dramatics, gave vim and life to his role as the self-centered, self-efficient play producer Keith Burgess.

Other members of the cast which should all be complimented were Eunece Atkinson, Kathryn Harris, Carole Dahlman, Bonnie Florer, Lois Allard, Jeaneen Jones, Glenna Black, Kay Willmore, Mary Treadway, Shirley Barnes, Joy Burleigh, Carlene Shaw, Cecilia O'Connor, Virgie Bentley, Sidney Harris, Gary Bradshaw, Ralph Martin, Jack Parkinson, Bill Gerrard, Phil Wallwork, Gary Green, Milton Homer, Ted Davidson, and Irving Decker.

The story depended for its interest on incidents and dialogue. These would-be actresses all lived in Mrs. Orcutt's (Virgie Bentley) boarding house while they attempted to crash Broadway.

Pepster Initiates

The Pepster Club of Evanston High is composed of forty-five girls including the five cheerleaders. In addition to their customary activities of cheering on the teams, and improving good sportsmanship, the girls, this year, have had two outstanding events.

On January 9, the group traveled to Afton to attend the Evanston-Afton basketball game. This trip was highlighted by a letter received shortly afterwards commending the good sportsmanship and courtesy of the group.

As a fitting closing to the year, a formal dance was held on March 20 for the Pepsters and their guests with "Till I Waltz Again With You" as the theme.

The Junior High organization which has the responsibility of fostering school spirit is the Racerettes. The quota of members is sixty girls who express their desire to become members, and who meet the grade average and other requirements. Their major activity is marching between halves of games during the Junior High Invitational Basketball Tournament in the spring. The annual fall event is a potluck supper honoring the new initiates. This year for the first time the club sponsored a dance called the "Kiddie Kapers Kick", on January 23, 1953.

The Future Homemakers of America is a nation wide organization. The Evanston Junior Chapter has been a member of this organization since 1949. Girls who are enrolled in home economics or who have had one semester credit are eligible for membership.

The activities sponsored by the club are an annual Carnival Dance, Family Night, panel discussions in cooperation with parents, and correspondence with foreign pen pals. This year, most of the members were able to attend the district meeting held at Lyman. Eight of the girls attended the state meeting in Laramie. A tentative program of suggested activities as set up by the state is followed by all state clubs. Our club rated superior during the current year.

The Spanish Club gives to students an added incentive to learn to speak the language they are studying. Programs of Spanish songs, dances, games, and discussions of Spanish-speaking countries and their customs increase their understanding and appreciation of the cultural background of our neighboring republics. The Spanish party during the Christmas season and the banquet, which the club sponsors annually, gives members actual opportunities of experiencing Spanish customs of entertainment and meals. Football on Review

After a tough opening game with Rock Springs, the Red Devils went on to win 6 out of 7 conference games. The regular conference season ended in a three way tie with Reliance, Green River, and Evanston. In the play-off game, the Red Devils beat Reliance 28-6 for the South West District Championship. Evanston lost the Regional Championship to a powerful Worland team that was seeking revenge for the 25-2 State Championship game suffered the previous year at the hands of the Red Devils.

The caliber of football that has been displayed by the Devils the past two seasons was made possible by a great deal of hard work on the part of the squad members. Their willingness to cooperate and their desire to improve themselves were major factors in the strengthening of the team.

I want to express my appreciation to each member of the club for his sacrifices that made the season of 1952 a most successful one.

Basketball on Review

The 1952-53 basketball season proved to be one of the best in many years for the Red Devils. They ended up with 18 wins and 9 losses, placing third in the league, and also taking third place at the Southwest District Tournament at Green River. In addition to the third place trophy, the Red Devils won the tournament free throw trophy with a brilliant 69 per cent.

The free throw trophy that was given by the school for the best seasonal free throw percentage was won by sophomore Richard Chappell who shot 59 per cent.

Harold Thomason led all scorers with 351 points for the season, and was elected to the all-conference team. Wally Pirainen and Jack Parkinson also received all-conference mention.

Captain

Junior High Basketball Team

The Junior High basketball team had a good season, winning eleven games and losing one. In the Junior High Tournament the team did not play the kind of basketball it was capable of playing and had to settle for fifth place.

Fundamentals, which are the main requisite of the basketball player in the lower grades, were heavily stressed in every practice session. During the season the boys displayed great team spirit and cooperation. These important factors will contribute greatly to the building of a fundamentally sound and well rounded varsity teams in the years to come.

The season's record was as follows:

HOME GAMES		GAMES AWAY

Dear Diary

It all began September second
When once again the school bell beckoned.

A funny looking Sophomore herd
Were initiated on September third.

On the 17th the Pepsters had a banquet divine,
And on the 18th the Racerettes did dine.

On the 27th Homecoming was a gala affair;
We beat Star Valley, and everyone was there.

In September our football team started its climb--
Kemmerer, Superior, and Star Valley--we won every time.

On October 3rd was the Jackson game--
They put up a good fight but we won just the same.

On the 9th and 10th the teachers to Casper did go;
The vacation was enjoyed by all I know.

On the 10th the Red Devils and Rawlins Outlaws did meet
With a victory for Evanston--for Rawlins defeat.

The Journalism Conference in Laramie on October 17--
Also the game in Reliance--one of the best ever seen.

The Green River game on the 24th was a disappointment to all
When the mighty Red Devils met their downfall.

The 25th the band traveled to Logan for Band Day,
And October ended with the Carnival Dance gay.

November 3rd Hallowe'en films were shown,
But the pranks that were pulled were all well known.

On November 4th Don Comfort entertained us,
And over his playing we all made a big fuss.

The Sophomore Stomp was on November 7
When the gym became a bit o'heaven.

On November 12th our parents came to school
To see how we learn the golden rule.

The regional play-off on November 15
When we lost to Worland on their home green.

On November 20th the school was proud
When "Life With Father" drew a big crowd.

On November 26th was the Deer Hunter's Ball--
The studentbody was there--one and all.

The 27th was Thanksgiving Day
"Vacation Time!" was all we could say.

With the band concert and F H A party, too,
Vacation started for me and you.

Dear Diary

Back to school from Christmas time on January 5,
And into our lessons once more we must dive.

A banquet for the "E" Club, the Pepsters did hold
On January 8, one of the best we were told.

To Star Valley the team and Pepsters went on January 9,
But for losing the game we had a good time.

"Portraits In Make-up" by Hal Rodman was presented-
An assembly no one could say they resented.

In February basketball reached its prime,
And our Red Devils stayed third in the conference climb.

"Brigadoon" on the 14th was a big success--
"One of the best" would be my guess.

The Junior High tournament was enjoyed by all
Ending the Junior High season for basketball.

March 5, 6, and 7 was the basketball tourney,
And most of the studentbody to Green River did journey.

The Pepster Ball was a major event on March 20;
"Till I Waltz Again With You" was enjoyed by many.

On the 27th "Stage Door" was performed--
"A tremendous hit," so we were informed.

On the 15th the Spring Music concert was held,
For the band and director, success was spelled.

The Speech Festival in Laramie April 16th we did attend;
Our superior ratings once more to defend.

On April 24th as among the crowd we would mingle
The magic of the Prom set us all a-tingle.

The Music Festival on the first of May Proved to be another worthwhile day.

The Hop on the 2nd was the place
To see each and every student's face.

Thespian initiation, May 7th, was the loveliest by far
For each and every Evanston star.

May 17th was the day for Baccalaureate--
A day the Seniors shall never forget.

The 20th was our Senior Class Night--
A melo-drama that was different and bright.

The Seniors on the 22nd tell the story
Of their graduation in all its glory.

This ends the activities of this school year
To the Class of '54, carry on from here.
